

Eleven Scientists Who Held On To Strong Faith While Wrestling With The Mystery

In this groundbreaking book, eleven scientists share their personal journeys of reconciling science and faith. These are men and women who have dedicated their lives to understanding the natural world, yet they also believe in a higher power. Their stories are inspiring and thought-provoking, and they offer a unique perspective on the relationship between science and religion.

The scientists in this book come from a variety of backgrounds and disciplines. There are physicists, biologists, chemists, and geologists. Some work in academia, while others work in industry or government. But they all share a common belief: that science and faith can coexist.
