About the Book

In Out of Orange, Dawn Griffin shares her extraordinary journey of overcoming racism, rejection, and self-discovery. Born to a white mother and a black father, Dawn grew up feeling like an outsider in both worlds. She was teased and bullied for her mixed-race appearance, and she struggled to find her place in society.

But Dawn refused to let the prejudices of others define her. She embarked on a quest for self-acceptance and empowerment, and she eventually found her voice as a writer and speaker. Today, Dawn is a successful author, speaker, and advocate for diversity and inclusion.

Out of Orange is a powerful and inspiring memoir that will resonate with anyone who has ever felt like an outsider. Dawn's story is a testament to the human spirit's ability to overcome adversity and triumph.
